about us

Content Gardening Studio, lead by Kamon AYEVA, is an expertise and solution provider delivering services in domains such as data analytics, data-driven web app development, and automation tools.

For over 10 years, we have built relationships with several clients and have been working to build blogs and niche content sites for sharing ideas, how-tos, and reviews.

Since 2018, two of our content creation projects (Content Gardening and its sister French blog, Productivite Personnelle) are running and sustainable.

Content Gardening

Productivité Personnelle

ContentGardening.com
A blog where we publish ideas, how-tos, and reviews related to our domains of expertise (content management, data, APIs, programming, automation).

ProductivitePersonnelle.com
A French blog where we publish tips and curated content useful for optimizing things in life and have an impact. Productivite Personnelle has a particular focus on productivity tools on one hand, and side business on the other.
